Hi Andy,

The concerns expressed by my IO were not very specific. There was some mention of the potential misinterpretations that could arise from displaying exceedance of the Lifetime Drinking Water Health Advisory by zip code. I believe there have been ongoing concerns expressed in OLEM about putting data from contaminated sites on the internet without having site-specific communication materials to help communities, states, and the regions to address the questions and concerns that will likely be raised.

Looking at the draft communication materials will probably help focus the conversations.

Thanks,

Stiven

Hi Stiven - we are working up a first draft of some comms materials, should have something to share shortly with programs and regions.

You mentioned yesterday that you had heard of some concerns from your AA, anything that you can share with us? Thanks, Andy

Subject: Communications materials for PFAS Dashboard

Hello,

I am following up to see if there are some draft communications materials for the PFAS Dashboard that can be shared with OLEM? Are AA has expressed some concerns about the risk communication needs for this effort. Please let me and Jackie Hardwood know when you have something you can share.

Thanks,
